ABSTRACT

Psychological disturbances in horses and dogs that may be caused by problems with their unnatural housing/living situations are permanent stressors that detract energy from the body. At last the body gets too weak to stay in a healthy regulation. The animal can become psychically ill and after a longer time can become psychosomatically ill. In controlled ear acupuncture one knows several specific points for diagnosis and treatment of psychic and psychosomatic diseases.

PSYCHIC STRESS IN HORSES AND DOGS

When we talked about disturbing foci it was mentioned that energy detracting stressors make the body so poor that it cannot hold its regulation in a steady state and becomes chronically ill. Psychological stress is another kind of stress that detracts a lot of energy from the body. The animal starts to show psychic problems and when these problems cannot be solved over a longer period the animal can develop psychosomatic illness.

The animal can have everyday intensive psychological stress in its herd; or the problem of having no herd is also a stress. The animal has not been imbedded in a normal hierarchy, it misses comfort behavior, which means it misses something like love and it may have a lack of happiness. A main problem especially for a horse is to be kept in a stable. It can cause disturbances like claustrophobia that we also see when the horse will not go into the trailer. Psychological stress can be caused by problems with its owner; a lack of education, which means that the animal doesn't clearly know its position in the ranking with its people. Not to know its position first makes the animal feel unsafe. Unsafeness leads to doubt and fear and this leads to anger and aggressive behavior. The animal can also suffer from the stress of its owner when he or she is in stress. It can suffer from violence from its owner and I am sure that I have seen dogs and horses that hated their owner. On the other hand, it may be that the owner changes and the animal had loved its owner or the loved owner dies. In situations like these we find a loss of love. This seems to me to be an important aspect in creating a basis on which cancer can grow.

In some horses and dogs, mostly females, we see a behaviour that reminds us of hysteria. Most of these cases that I have seen have been connected with ovarian problems. At the end of all these psychic problems, when the animal can't find any way out, it may happen that it gives itself up and in this moment it has reached the state of Desperation.

PSYCHIC EAR POINTS AND RELATED FLOWER REMEDIES

For all these psychic problems we have found in controlled acupuncture special ear acupuncture points and, for most of them, also the related body acupuncture points. In addition, for all these points we found special flower remedies that work on these points.

This of course doesn't mean that instead of giving our dog or horse a good education, or after we had an act of violence on our horse we can give the flower essence or treat the point by needle or by laser and everything is ok. But in most cases when we have psychic problems, acupuncture helps to solve it. Along with acupuncture we have to do everything that is possible to solve the problem itself. When we again think about these psychic problems being the underlying reason of chronic diseases it is even more important to have them in the therapeutic concept.

All the psychic points were first found as ear acupuncture points. After transposing the body points to the ear most of these points showed their face also as a body point, but not all. For some points, e.g., point of love, hate, hysteria, desperation, we don't have related body points. When we have found an identical body point to the former known ear point, it is pointed out. Either point, ear or body point, can be used in absolutely similar way.

When one looks for psychic points one has two options: The first option is looking with the stock bottle of the flower essence for the special point by RAC control. The second option is much easier. When a laser is available, we can look for psychic acupuncture points with special frequencies. With these frequencies we find nothing else than the specific psychic point of this patient by RAC control. One only finds one active point at the ear or body. This is the psychic problem of this patient. Sometimes the patient doesn't show any psychic problem, but when he has an underlying psychic problem causing his illness, it is important to treat the point.

To find the points by laser the right laser frequency according to Bahr is very important, e.g. Frequency 4 (Fr.4) for Sp-2 or Lu-7. To treat this point we again have different options. We can put a needle into the point, we can laser the point or (and) we can give one or two drops of the special flower essence. All options lead to a balanced point. One can test it by RAC control. Five to ten seconds after giving the flower essence, the former active point is not to be found any more by RAC. The results in humans are very impressive. Of course, in some cases psychological sessions in humans are also helpful and wonderful to combine with acupuncture. Even though till now there are not so many patients in animals the first results seem to be very promising.
